Dear Mr. Tanner,

After evaluating your company's recent endeavor into the power conditioning market I felt compelled to comment.

TORUS BOX STYLE 2.5/5/10 AMP Units

Shane Drew at Hi-Fi Hawaii was kind enough to allow me a weekend audition of the stand alone 8 outlet 10 Amp Torus power conditioner. In my almost 30 years as an audiophile, this is the first time that one single component change has produced such a large improvement in all sonic aspects within my system. Kudos to your engineering team for producing a truly exceptional product for this market. The reviewer's comments on this equipment mirror what I have encountered also.

I am educated and have worked as an Electronics Technician since my early twenties (now 44). It is shocking that these results were obtained from what essentially is an isolation transformer! It increases the dynamics and drives my power hungry tube integrated amplifier to full power output as well (I measured it with an oscilloscope). Additionally, the Torus will compliment any other component alteration within a system. For these reasons, Torus will remain the core system power source for the remainder of my days.

P. S. This is my first correspondence to any audio manufacturer.

Sincerely,
David Calus
